

GREELEY POLICE DEPARTMENT

General Order 218.00

Reviewed: 03/23

218.00 PLANNING

- It is imperative that planning as a process be conducted at all levels of the organization. The scope of planning activities may range from long-range planning involving all the resources of the department conducted by the Chief of Police, to operational plans formed by police officers while enroute to a particular type of call for service. The requirement that an employee plan their action is commensurate with the responsibility and accountability for the outcome.
- Planning involves the identification of relevant factors, and the analysis of these factors to determine the present and future needs of the agency.
- The department may develop plans for use during a single situation involving a department-wide response to a major incident. Once this type of plan has been executed, such plans will be evaluated for the development of operating procedures for future, similar, situations.
- All employees of the department are encouraged to make suggestions and identify planning needs and concerns, to enhance departmental performance.
